

30 December 1954

MEMO FOR THE RECORD OF THE CLARK COMMITTEE

1. Colonel Miller informed me that he had neglected (on 29 December) to raise the issue of OCI's Watch Committee in his discussion with the DD(I). (In all probability he will wish to discuss this further at a later date, prior to the preparation of his report, which, he indicated, he would have in draft form by mid-February). Miller feels that the Watch Committee is an expensive luxury, for which there is insufficient need. As he put it, "This Committee is comprised of less important personnel, who are engaged in the review and compilation of data sufficiently known to the higher echelon of the IAC". He feels that although the authority for said Committee (as well as the Indications Center) is so worded as to glamorize its need, in reality it is the effort on the part of certain individuals to build an empire of their own.

25X1A

2. Colonel Miller told Mrs. [REDACTED] that he will strongly recommend to General Christiansen today at their staff meeting, that his recommended reorganization chart (copy of which we have) be given earnest consideration by the Committee.

3. Colonel Miller stated that he felt "the services" (Department of Defense) and State were withholding far too much information that should be made available to CIA, since it comprised intelligence. How he recommends doing this he did not state. He also said that the NSC should revise their directives, allowing this Agency to approach directly Federal Agencies outside the IAC for the purpose of intelligence collection, rather than having to go through OCD. He felt this latter procedure had bogged down, and that 90% of available information within these agencies were going unnoticed and unrecorded.

4. Colonel Miller again raised the question of military personnel assigned to the Agency, which he will bring up forcibly with Personnel.

25X1A

FLD/du

30 December 1954

MEMO FOR THE RECORD OF THE CLARK COMMITTEE

1. Colonel Miller informed me that he had neglected (on 29 December) to raise the issue of OCI's Watch Committee in his discussion with the DD(I). (In all probability he will wish to discuss this further at a later date, prior to the preparation of his report, which, he indicated, he would have in draft form by mid-February). Miller feels that the Watch Committee is an expensive luxury, for which there is insufficient need. As he put it, "This Committee is comprised of less important personnel, who are engaged in the review and compilation of data sufficiently known to the higher echelon of the IAC". He feels that although the authority for said Committee (as well as the Indications Center) is so worded as to glamorize its need, in reality it is the effort on the part of certain individuals to build an empire of their own.

2. Colonel Miller told [REDACTED] that he will strongly recommend to General Christiansen today at their staff meeting, that his recommended reorganization chart (copy of which we have) be given earnest consideration by the Committee.

3. Colonel Miller stated that he felt "the services" (Department of Defense) and State were withholding far too much information that should be made available to CIA, since it comprised intelligence. How he recommends doing this he did not state. He also said that the NSC should revise their directives, allowing this Agency to approach directly Federal Agencies outside the IAC for the purpose of intelligence collection, rather than having to go through OCD. He felt this latter procedure had bogged down, and that 90% of available information within these agencies were going unnoticed and unrecorded.

4. Colonel Miller again raised the question of military personnel assigned to the Agency, which he will bring up forcibly with Personnel.

[REDACTED]

This document has been approved for release through the HISTORICAL REVIEW PROGRAM of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Date 5/5/92

HRP 89-7 Approved For Release 2000/09/14 : CIA-RDP88-00374R000100260022-8

010143